

MEDIA ARTS PRODUCTION, B.S.

The B.S. in Media Arts Production focuses on creation of original content across genres to inform, entertain, persuade and enlighten audiences. Students learn industry specific skills and standards, managing projects, meeting tight deadlines, and collaborating in production teams. Persons considering the B.S. in Media Arts Production should consult with the department about requirements, as these programs undergo periodic revision.