The Department of History offers courses in U.S. and world history and major degrees in both the liberal arts and secondary education. A history minor is also available to nonhistory majors. The department’s program in secondary education provides teaching certification. Academic counseling is available for students choosing careers in history.