ALLIED HEALTH TECHNOLOGY, B.S. - SPORTS MEDICINE OPTION

Millersville University’s allied health programs provide students with an excellent education in the basic sciences (biology, chemistry, math and physics) while accelerating their clinical preparation for the health profession to which they aspire. The Sports Medicine option is a 4-year program that prepares students for graduate or professional studies.