

DATA SCIENCE MINOR

The Data Science minor has an emphasis on the foundations of computational thinking, problem solving, and how to represent, store, access, and modify data. Students can take a strict subset of Computer Science major courses to fulfill the minor requirements. Completion of 20 credit-hours (all four-credit courses) is required for the minor.