

METEOROLOGY MINOR

Millersville University's meteorology program offers a contemporary, comprehensive curriculum, infused with technology and taught by inspiring and passionate faculty. This program prepares students for a broad range of career opportunities through our ongoing commitment to their growth as scientists and citizens, with knowledge and skills that are and will be in demand in the modern, evolving workplace.