

QUANTITATIVE METHODS IN ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE MINOR

This 18 credit minor provides the quantitative and technical skills that are valued by both employers and graduate programs in environmental science. This minor includes a number of options geared towards a wide range of fields; students are able to tailor this minor to reflect their interests and equip them to pursue their professional aspirations in diverse environmental careers.