

MATHEMATICS, B.A. – STATISTICS OPTION

Studying Statistics at Millersville University will prepare students to develop and apply mathematical and statistical theory and methods to collect, organize, interpret, and summarize numerical data. Students who complete the Statistics Option find that it prepares them well for graduate school or careers in agriculture, business, education, government, industry, social or applied sciences.