MATHEMATICS, B.S.

The B.S. degree program in mathematics is more specifically application-oriented than the B.A. degree program in mathematics, requiring a greater concentration in mathematical analysis and science. The program is designed to position its graduates for a career in business, industry, or research in mathematics.